

Pinky Anand is a Senior Advocate with a diverse practice in constitutional, civil arbitration and criminal law. She was the Additional Solicitor General of India for two terms. She has represented the country in various national and international forums including BRICS and SCO. She is Exco member of Lawasia and heads the ADR committee and is a founding member of BRICS Legal Forum. She is the Vice-President of Bar Association of India and has been actively associated with Bar Association of India for several years in several capacities. A graduate of Harvard Law School and Inlaks scholar, she is an Honorary Professor of Amity Law School. She has been awarded the French National Order of Merit by President of the French Republic. She was presented with the Plaque of Honor by the Bar Council of India in 2015. She has been recognized as “Living Legend of Law” by the Bar Association of India. She has several landmark judgements in constitutional law and other areas to her credit and he has led the way for gender justice. She has several awards acknowledging her contribution to the legal world and society. She has authored several books including. “Trials of Truth” by Penguin, Practical Law, “International relocation of children in India” by Thomson Reuters & “Family Law, Jurisdictional Comparisons” by Thomas Reuters.