

Sumeet Kachwaha is the founding partner of dispute-resolution specialist firm, Kachwaha & Partners with more than 43 years in the legal profession. Sumeet has been appointed sole arbitrator by the High Court of Delhi in several arbitrations. He has also served as amicus curiae to the High Court of Delhi twice (including in relation to the first BIT dispute to come up before Indian courts). He has also stood as an expert witness on Indian law in the courts of England and Singapore. Sumeet currently serves on the six-member advisory board of the Asian International Arbitration Centre (formerly KLRCA). He previously served as the chair of the dispute resolution and arbitration section of the Inter-Pacific Bar Association (IPBA) and as Vice President of the Asia-Pacific Regional Arbitration Group (APRAG).