Welcome message from the Vice President of India

Happy to know that LAWASIA is convening its 36th Annual Conference in Bengaluru from 24 - 27 November, 2023.

I am pleased to learn that this conference is featuring delegates and speakers from over thirty-five jurisdictions, who will delve into diverse aspects of law. Particularly noteworthy are discussions on contemporaneous issues like Chat GPT, Social Media Content Regulation, Cryptocurrency in Real Estate Transactions and Labour Rights in the Gig Economy, among others. I commend the Bar Association of India for their meticulous efforts in organizing this conference and providing a significant forum for advancing legal discourse.

I wish the 36th LAWASIA Annual Conference every success. May it stand as a testament to Bharat's legal prowess, spinal strength, and ethos, and may the deliberations underscore our commitment to a legal landscape firmly rooted in justice and equality.

MESSAGE

I am happy to note about the 36th annual conference organised by LAWASIA.

Greetings to the national and global delegates participating in the conference.

It is commendable that the Bar Association of India continues to make an important contribution in promoting regional interaction at various levels, as well as facilitating exchange of ideas and best practices beyond borders.

Judicial systems play an important role in creating a society that is fair, just, and equitable. Access to justice is the lifeline of a just and fair society. It is therefore imperative for every nation to prioritize the ease of justice for its citizens, ensuring that justice is accessible to all.

I am positive that this gathering of legal experts will result in an exchange of thoughts on a diverse array of issues including business law, environmental law, family law, human rights, intellectual property and employment law. Wide-ranging deliberations held on emerging challenges such as content regulation of social media, cryptocurrency in real estate transactions and legal responsibility will also help chart a path for a shared future.

May the discussions at the conference be path-breaking and result-oriented. Best wishes for its all-round success.

(Narendra Modi)

Welcome message from the LAWASIA President

Greetings esteemed colleagues!

As the President of LAWASIA, I welcome you to the 36th LAWASIA Conference in Bengaluru from 24 - 27 November, 2023. The Conference was held in India in New Delhi in 1985 and 2010. We return to our old friend India, this time in the vibrant and culturally rich southern metropolis of Bengaluru. Indeed, Bengaluru's economic and cultural significance makes it the perfect location for this year's conference.

Our annual conference brings together the most prominent bar associations and legal organisations from 40 jurisdictions in the Asia-Pacific region. We are committed to promoting the principles of access to justice, the rule of law, and the protection of human rights.

This year's conference promises to be an unforgettable event, with countless opportunities to learn, connect, and build networks throughout the region. We will cover a wide range of topics, including cross-border business and investment law, cross-border dispute resolution, legal education, and judicial practice.

We also have a special session discussing the pending liberalisation of India's foreign lawyer admission rules with representatives of international firms from around the ESCAP region. This session will provide a forum to analyse the issues and opportunities for both international and local Indian firms.

Despite the challenges we have all faced in recent years, we believe that our collective strength and commitment to legal principles will allow us to continue advocating for the rule of law and human rights in our region.

To all our valued members, friends, and supporters, I extend a warm welcome to India. Let's come together this November to share our knowledge, forge new connections, and make lasting contributions to the legal community in the Asia-Pacific region.

Looking forward to meeting you all in person!

Melissa K. Pang, BBS, MH, JP
President of LAWASIA

Welcome message from the BAI President

Dear delegates, dear colleagues,

Greetings from the Bar Association of India, the host of 36th LAWASIA Conference, 2023. Allow me to first try to address an intrigue, which may be in your mind, even so vaguely. Why the theme of “Everything, Everywhere, All at Once—Lawyering in the Digital Age” was chosen for the conference. Is it just a fancy blurb or a tagline, or a token to highlight and celebrate the Asian-ness, with Michelle Yeoh, an actress of Malaysia-Chinese origin winning Oscar for the Best Actress, while playing the role of an Asian immigrant in America? Why a story which is widely linked to the philosophical themes of nihilism and absurdism is picked as theme for a law conference? Is Lawyering in the Digital Age a tribute to the City of Bengaluru, an acknowledgement of its status as the Silicon Valley of the East, a nerve centre of Information Technology Development (now fancier Artificial Intelligence). Or is it just an interesting way to convey the spread of the conference programme which includes all the varied legal topics and issues that a set of ignited minds will debate in the spirit of intellectual excitement? While the reason of choosing this theme may be all of these all at once, is there something more to it?

Well for me, it is also a chance to meet in the vibrant setting of a physical conference after zooming remotely during and in the aftermath of the pandemic. A space, not just for networking, but for bonding, with colleagues and friends, new and old, trying to purge the creeping feeling of nihilism that the virus had induced.

A LAWASIA conference has always been for me a cosy place to make new friends and learn new ideas, to absorb and partake in the local culture and legal landscape of a new country and a city each year. This year it is Bengaluru in India. We welcome you here with open arms and open hearts, inviting you to soak your tastebuds in the unique flavours of the South Indian cuisine. We will try to regale you with the glimpses of a wonderful culture through artistic performances, while we discuss and debate in plenaries and parallel sessions, multiple themes of our legal universe. For all this, we have to thank our wonderful Conference Co-chairs –Shyam and Naganand– for doing a tremendous job of putting together this event while multitasking their way with full load of their busy professional practice (this also fits in the movie theme of all at once!)

Did someone say Multiverse? Yes, that was also a dominant theme of the movie. But I will leave it to your imagination to explore how it relates to the theme of our conference. Wish you happy exploring and a gala time in Bengaluru.

Prashant Kumar
President of The Bar Association India

Welcome message from the Conference Co-Chairs

ನಮಸ್ಕಾರ. ಎಲ್ಲರಿಗೂ ಸ್ವಾಗತ, ಸುಸ್ವಾಗತ.

Namaskara & Svagata

Welcome to 'Namma Bengaluru' or 'our Bengaluru' and the 36th LAWASIA Annual Conference.

Thank you for travelling great distances to be here. We are confident that you will enjoy the deliberations over the range of topics on offer. In keeping with Bengaluru's global reputation as an economic engine that drives the digital world, we have planned the conference programme around contemporary themes of relevance across jurisdictions.

We are delighted at the enthusiastic response this event has received. Following a week of hectic holidays during Diwali, the festival of lights, this Conference provides a pause to reflect on the values that bind us – the global community of lawyers. We are sure you will meet several old friends and make new ones as we learn how diverse jurisdictions respond to the challenges posed by emerging technologies, environmental disruption, fluid economies and tests to the rule of law and access to justice.

Bengaluru, our host state Karnataka, and the sub-continent beyond, have many treasures to offer. We hope your experiences of contemporary India will permit a glimpse or two captured by the poet Arun Kolatkar:

A low temple keeps its gods in the dark.
You lend a matchbox to the priest.
One by one the gods come to light.
Amused bronze. Smiling stone. Unsurprised.

We wish you a most enjoyable Conference and stay in 'Namma Bengaluru'.

S. S. Naganand, Co-Chair
Shyam Divan, Co-Chair

Hong Kong Bar Association

香港大律師公會

Barristers are specialist advocates in law with the right to appear at all levels of courts. They also provide legal advice, prepare court documents, and appear in and conduct hearings in other contentious matters including in arbitration and adjudication as well as participating in and conducting mediation. Barristers practise as individual legal practitioners. Each barrister is under a professional obligation to comply with the “cab-rank rule”, by which a barrister is bound to accept a brief (or instructions) to appear on behalf of any clients before a court/tribunal in the field in which he/ she practises at his/ her usual fee. This ensures that services of the best advocates are available to all.

The Hong Kong Bar Association is the governing body of barristers in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. Established in 1949, the Bar Association has 1,666 members as of November 2023, including 107 Senior Counsel. Many of our members are bilingual in English and Chinese (as well as other languages) and are able to provide legal advice and appear in and conduct bilingual or multilingual hearings, including litigation, arbitration, adjudication as well as in mediation. A lot of our members have experience in cross-border proceedings and in proceedings involving cross-border and international agreements.
